* TM 11-235 shows a five turn, tuned, direction finding loop as an accessory for BC611.

I wonder if it had any gain over the normal whip?

Two less voices on earth tonight....=20

Most of have heard on the passing of Bob Hope and there is a lot in the = news so I will not go into further detail that to say this great = entertainer and personality shall indeed be missed..... He did wonders = to entertain the troops during war time!

One other, and perhaps more taken for granted voice passed on also... = Meet Jane Barbe.

Jane Barbe, with a voice that was familiar to the millions of telephone = users across the country, died July 18 of complications from cancer at = the age of 74.

Anyone that dialed a wrong number or had to "please listen to the = following options" in a voice mail system was treated to the sound of =
Mrs. Barbe's voice.=20

Mrs. Barbe was indeed THE queen of telephone recordings...

During her unusual 40-year career, she articulated immortal lines = including "At the tone, the time will be 7:22 and 40 seconds," "I'm = sorry, the number you have dialed is no longer in service," and "Please = press one for more options."=20

She held a record of being on 90 percent of "intercept messages" -- the = recording played as an error message when something is wrong with a = phone number -- and 60 percent of automated time - temperature = announcements over the telephone..=20

"You hear my voice in more than 1,000 cities in the United States, Saudi = Arabia, Hong Kong, South America, Canada. . . . Vocally, I get around," = she told the Chicago Sun-Times years ago.=20

People wrote her letters, some saying they called a certain number to = hear her voice when they were lonely. When she appeared at business = conventions, sometimes hundreds of people would line up for her = autograph.=20

She will be missed, but her voice shall continue on..... EAS=20

That name is familiar somehow. Isn't she the one that also recorded the time announcements for WWVH (Hawaii)???

Groups,

Thanks to the efforts of another list member, I was given access for scanning for possible future printing some manuals on the following Navy DF sets. I haven't finished any of them (scanning takes little time but cleaning and straightening takes lots) but can/will if/when anyone needs any of them.

NAVSHIPS 900,287 Model DAH, DAH-2
(This is the Installation Instructions. Has photos of the set but does not include schematic of the receiver).
SHIPS 301 Model DAU
PIB for Model DAR
PIB for Model DAV-2

Also included in the stack were a few pages of descriptive text, list of components and a photo of DAY, but no schematics or other info.

Not DF but also got T.O. 31-1-59, Flexible RF Coaxial Cables and Connectors.

I have a manual (just dragged home) for SCR-269-F (Art Deco DF set) , AAF Tech order No. 08-10-110 dated Sept 30, 1942. Its printed on the usual high acid WWII throw-away paper but in good shape. Anyone want to scan/copy it for your Gooney Bird or to share with other WWII BA afflicted souls?

Good afternoon Fellow Anchorites,

I am going to echo A1 Klase's request for Lambda Model 50 information.
Are all of those 6L6's used for series pass regulators? Thanks in advance for any help.

First time on the list, I'm looking for a Collins speaker to match my 75A4.
Either the 312A1, 270G1,G2,G3 and the filters for it. Would like to find a CW filter 500hz or 800hz. Thanks

I'm also looking for a speaker or pair of rack mount speakers for the R-390 and R-1051. I don't recall the LS-### on these although I used them enough while onboard ship. (*P.S. a bulkhead is a wall to soldiers and airmen..hihi) Thanks 73 Tom K4NCG

Hi, Tom, welcome to the list!

You can buy new mechanical filters

for the A-4, assembled out of current stock

Collins filters, and outfitted in the old style case.

"Dave Curry Longwave Products",

each $199 plus $4.50 shipping. He has 500 Hz, 2.5 Kc, and 6 Kc filters for the A-4 available.

www.ermag.com "Electric Radio Magazine" carries them,
and has photos.

You can click on to their on-line catalog to order.

Greetings Group,

I am looking for the connector that fits the rear of the AN/ARC-4 or = better yet the mount with the connector. I have a mount with no connector = that will work although it is not the correct nomenclature. I think the = connector is the same as that used on the ARC-2 and ARR-15 but I'm not = positive on that point.
